CHAPTER XX.

She understood him now, and blessing him for his little ruse, went quickly to the hospital. The old father was watching her from a parting in the window curtain, as and she tripped toward the hospital on expression of satisfaction came over his face. And that is how Alice came to be installed as Brown's nurse.

Brown slept for two hours calmly and peacefully. When he at last slowly, half dreamily awoke he felt a soft hand on his forehead, and opening his eyes they met those of his darling one.

"Ned, my darling, do you know me? Do you know your Alice

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are authorized to announce the name of John W. Campbell, of Kane, as a candidate for nomination for the office of County Treasurer, subject to the decision of the Republican county convention.

We are authorized to announce the name of James A. McKean, of Smethport, as a candidate for nomination for the office of County Treasurer, subject to the decision of the Republican county convention.

CLEVELAND is now hid away in the "Dismal Swamp," and ducks will suffer.

MARCH fourth came and they marched forth most of them never, to return.

THE Wilson-Gorman bill is doing wonders; in less than six months there is a deficiency of $43,000,000.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND has a large assortment of cuckoo ex-Congressmen for sale, but he will find the market dull and sales slow.

THOSE Democratic Congressmen who were so fortunate as to be re elected last November may thank their stars that last fall's election was not postponed until the present time.

GOVERNOR HASTINGS vetoed the bird book bill on Monday, and on Wednesday he signed the Marshall pipe line bill, which repeals the law of 1883 that prohibited the consolidation of pipe line companies.

TO THE voter who desired a change in 1892, how much succor are you receiving from the free trade teat that is now presented for nourishment. You evidently resemble the lean kine that Pharaoh saw in his dreams.

THE House passed the bill Sunday afternoon granting $100 per month pension to Major General A. McClearland, who is dying at his home in Springfield, Ill., at the age of 83 years. The above bill was bitterly opposed by Congressman Jones, of Virginia, the great advocate of the lost cause.

IN one columns this week will be found the name of John W. Campbell, of Kane, who announces his name as a candidate for the office of county treasurer. We have met Mr. Campbell a few times and like his appearance very much. He is a young man of promise, fine appearing, of good address, pleasing manners and well qualified to fill the position of county treasurer.

ON Monday last at high noon Miss Anna Gould, the great American heiress, through the marriage contract entered the Castellane which will make her a French Countess. It is to be hoped that this marriage will be more prolific of happiness than its predecessors, for there is no gainsaying the fact that these marriages of America's fair maidens to European poverty stricken nobility have been anything but productive of happiness.

THE Chicago platform in 1892 pronounced the McKinley bill unconstitutional and bitterly opposed the sugar bounty provided in that bill. Now, at the close of the 53d Congress they have railroaded a bill through giving $5,000,000 in bounties to the sugar planters of the southern states and Free Wilson, the great free trade reformer, was one of the main workers to get the bill through the house on Sunday last. Another exhibition of "party perfidy and dishonor."

THE Democratic battle cry, "the rich are getting richer, and the poor poorer," seems to have been abandoned by the unterrified, as we do not hear that vote-getting cry any more. One side of the question has come to pass at least, if not both, and that is the poor are as far down the ladder of poverty as they can very well get, while the rich are badly handicapped. They have the property, but it has depreciated in value to such an extent that it is hard to realize on anything. There are millionaires in the country who can hardly raise sufficient money to pay taxes and other running expenses.

THE name of James A. McKean appears in the usual place for announcements as a candidate for nomination for the office of county treasurer. We copy from last Monday's Star, which voices the sentiment of this section in much stronger terms than our feeble pen could tell it, as follows

Mr. James A. McKean, of Smethport, has an honorable ambition to succeed George C. Fagnan as county treasurer, and takes the public into his confidence in the announcement published at the head of this column. It need hardly be said that back of Mr. McKean's aspirations is strong popular sentiment. The gentleman is widely acquainted in McKean county. No man is better known, perhaps, and none enjoys the confidence and esteem of the people to a higher degree. Among Republicans especially he is deservedly popular. He may be called one of the war horses of the party. He has always been found in the fore front of the battle, never sulking in his tent when work was to be done, never faltering in his devotion to Republican principles. Mr. McKean was one of the leading candidates for the treasurership three years ago, but it was no disparagement of his merits and no reflection upon his popularity that it was deemed expedient at that time to give the nomination to another section. Mr. McKean accepted the situation with good grace, hoping for a more favorable issue at another time. He believes that the time has come, and this confidence is shared by a host of friends who have rallied to the support of his candidacy. Mr. McKean has been an infatigable worker for his party for many years, but his personal popularity is not confined within party lines. He submits his claim to the nomination of the Republican electors, but his friends contend that in an election he would make heavy inroads upon the opposition vote. If Mr. McKean shall be nominated and elected, the county will have a capable and popular official.

THE years 1890, 1891, 1892 and 1893 were billion dollar years in gross railroad earnings. Last year the gross earnings on 174,000 miles of road decreased $122,000,000 and the net fell off $40,000,000. The depression caused the roads to reduce expenses $82,000,000, or at the rate of $6,500,000 per month. These figures indicate clearly how seriously the transportation interests have felt the great mistakes that have been made in Washington. There are hope that the last half of this year will witness a recovery from depression which has already lasted too long.—Phila Press.

DEVASTATION.

This one word fully describes the march of the Democratic party since it took the reins of the government on the 4th of March, 1893. When those would-be reformers started on that memorable date the country was in a prosperous condition; factories were running and industries of all kinds were in a healthy condition. But the poison of free-trade doctrine soon began to show its influence upon our manufactories; hours of labor were shortened, wages were lowered; one factory after another shut down as this great onward march of reform proceeded on its course of devastation, until our country, from an industrial standpoint, presents the appearance of the Shenandoah, after Sheridan had made his famous raid up that valley, when it was said that he left it so barren and destitute that a crow would not fly over it.

This army of Democratic reformers have made their march through the country, and their tracks are strewn with wreckage of idle mills, factories, machine shops and destitute homes, while poor old Uncle Sam bows his head in sorrow and shame over his ruined credit—a credit that has been the marvel of the world. Now, in times of peace, the poor old man has to go into a foreign country and borrow gold to replenish his depleted treasury; something that he was not forced to do during the late war. Sad must be the feelings of the man who in 1892 voted for a change, which came in a form that he little expected. It is to be hoped that such voters will profit by their experience, and never be caught in bad company again. There is an old saying, "three times and out." The Democratic party have now had their three innings. In the period before the war, when slavery held the nation in its clutches like a vice and the stars and stripes proclaimed liberty unto all the world, within the borders of the nation were over four million human beings kept in bondage and bought and sold like so many cattle. This was the first era. Then, by treason and secession in 1861, a large part of this same party, because of slavery, tried to strangle the nation, and only by the most superhuman efforts was the country saved. Now, in the third era, although it was not a period of trafficking in human blood, neither by taking blood and life, the devastation has been fully as terrible in the destruction of factories, the loss to trade and the suffering and want heaped upon the laboring classes by incompetent legislation. Surely this hydra-headed monster has committed enough wrongs and caused enough suffering in the country to satisfy the evil one himself, and should now be willing to retire into oblivion, surfeited with its own destructive powers. The country has had enough, and there can be no lower depths to explore.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTIONS

The MINER suggested in last week's issue that Congress, before it adjourns, pass resolutions making the 4th of March a national thanksgiving day, but in the hurry of adjournment it was very likely forgotten. Some of the State Legislatures, however, are trying to make up for the omission. We give below a few samples:

MINNESOTA.

Resolved, That all patriotic Americans from Maine to Texas, and from Florida to Oregon, are to be invited to celebrate the hour of our deliverance by the blowing of whistles, the flying of flags, the ringing of bells, and the booming of cannon, thereby declaring to the world by a great object lesson that the American people have determined that never again will they trust the business affairs of this great nation to Democratic hands.

NEW YORK

Assemblyman Hennessey (Dem.), of Brooklyn, presented the following:

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Legislature of the State of New York congratulates the people of the United States upon their release from the menace to public progress and general prosperity which existed while the LIIId Congress had the power to make laws for the nation.

PENNSYLVANIA

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania hereby extends its congratulations to the people of the United States that the official life of the late tariff tinkering, tax-increasing, industry-paralyzing, business-depressing, Treasury-depleting, confidence destroying, capital-wrecking, wage-reducing, labor-impoverishing Congress, the most unpatriotic and un-American known to American history, has by Constitutional limitation come to a close.

BELL TELEPHONE CO KNOCKED OUT

The Philadelphia Press has the following to say in reference to the action of the Supreme Court in the case of the Bell Telephone Co.

The decision rendered yesterday by the Supreme Court of the United States in the Bate Refrigerating case is a victory which inures to the benefit of the public by cutting short the life of patents in connection with telephone, electric light and other inventions in common use to the extent of $60,000,000. The endeavor of the Bell Telephone Company is of course to protect its monopoly by prolonging the life of its patents. Its contention is that the life of a patent begins to run for seventeen years in this country when the patent is taken out here, no matter how long the patent has been running, provided application for the United States patent was made prior to the grant of the foreign patent. The Supreme Court overrules this plea, holding that an invention patented in this country that has been previously patented in a foreign country expires in this country when the foreign patent runs out, even if the application for a patent was made first in this country. This decision is a long step in the direction of ending the monopoly of the Bell Telephone Company, since it terminates at once five patents which that company hoped to control exclusively until 1910.

Relief in 10 Minutes.

Mrs. Sarah Nuzum, Colfax, W. Va., says: "I have suffered with headache all my life, and never had anything to give me relief except applications of mustard to back of neck, until I got Dr. James' Headache Powders, which have never failed to relieve in about 10 minutes. For sale by McCoy's Drug Store, Smethport; C. A. Anderson, Colegrove; S. W. Stickney, Newell, and J. C. Stull, Farmers Valley.

That old established cough remedy, Down's Elixir, still more than holds its own in the public estimation, despite sharp and active competition. It is a "home remedy," and in this locality needs no words of praise from us, so well and favorably known is it. It is the standard remedy for coughs, colds, and all throat troubles with great numbers of our people, and their continued use and unsolicited recommendation of it speaks volumes in its favor.—Barings-ton, Vt., Free Press, January 26, 1893.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Special Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, March 4, 1895.

There's a death at hand,
But 'stead of the funeral bell,
There's a joyful shout all over the land:
'Tis well, 'tis well.

If the adage "only speak well of the dead" were literally followed it would be impossible to speak at all of the Fifty-third Congress, which drew its last gasp at noon to-day. About the best that can be said of the defunct Congress is that it did not do all the harm it might have done, and the Democratic majority should receive no credit for that, as their intentions were to do all the harm possible and it was only by the alertness of the Republicans that they were prevented from carrying them all out.

About the only mourners in the the Congressional house of death are the ex-members who know that their public careers are ended for good and all, and the Capitol employes who only receive pay while Congress is in session.

Ex-Speeder Reed uttered a few words while the House was discussing under a suspension of the rules a bill appropriating $17,300 to reimburse Washington and Lee University, of Virginia, for injuries sustained during the war, which were as sound in principle as the foundation of common law. After protesting against the bill being considered on sentimental grounds instead of the grounds of reason and wisdom, Mr. Reed said: "Whoever provokes war must take the consequences, even of lawlessness, which destroys institutions of learning. No nation can afford to adopt the doctrine that all injuries to such institutions shall be paid after the war is over."

Ex-Senator Manderson—the "ex" was attached at noon to-day—tried to accomplish what would have been a real reform just before completing his Senatorial career. He failed, but that should not prevent his receiving due credit for having made the attempt. Senator Manderson offered an amendment to the general deficiency appropriation bill, providing that the wives and daughters of Senators and Representatives should not be borne on the rolls as clerks, but the Senate promptly laid it on the table, and the wives and daughters of Senators and Representatives will continue to draw glory a mouth for work which, with rare exceptions they do not perform, and people elsewhere will continue to wonder why it is so difficult to get a Washington jury to convict those who rob the government. Senator Manderson's amendment should have become a law, and its provisions should have extended to cover the sons as well as the wives and daughters, also newspaper correspondents, and to embrace all government employments.

Senator Morgan wasn't mealy-mouthed about the reported intention of the British government to pay the damages allowed by Secretary Gresham to Canadian sealers in Behring Sea. He said in a speech to the Senate: "Sir George Baden-Powell says that they want to pay the Canadians and the recalcitrant and rascally Americans who hired themselves out under the British flag to rob the government of the U. S., violate its law, and dishonor the country and to pay them in advance, so as to have a moral claim against the U. S. for this $425,000, not one shilling of which is due—not a shilling. I propose that the committee on Foreign Relations shall investigate that matter. There has been enough of falsehood and misrepresentation about this in official documents and in the newspapers to require, for the vindication of the honor of the country, that this investigation shall be made." Mr. Morgan was one of the Behring Sea arbitrators, and knows this subject thoroughly.

The silver program, which was to commit the Democratic party to free coinage at a ratio of 16 to 1 fizzled out without making as much blaze as a parlor match would have done. The scheme had its origin in the fertile brain of Mr. Bland, of Mo., who to-day retired to private life, involuntarily, after a long career as a member of the House. Mr. Bland very shrewdly allowed Mr. Bryan, of Nebraska, another gentleman who was dropped from Uncle Sam's pay roll to-day, to take the management of the affair and to circulate the manifesto which was intended to force Mr. Cleveland and the other "gold bugs" out of the Democratic party as soon as it had been signed by nine-tenths of the Democrats in Congress. The manifesto might have had that effect had all the expected signers materialized, but they didn't. In fact so few Democrats signed the manifesto that none of the signers' names were made public with the manifesto. The other scheme, fathered by those members of the Bi-Metallic League with Democratic proclivities, to start a silver party and put up at once a Presidential ticket, is still in the incubator with the chances against its being hatched out in a healthy condition.

A SEVERE WINTER

The Cause of Suffering and An Increase of Diseases.

This winter has been the most severe for many years. North, South, East and West intense cold and blizzards have prevailed. This will surely cause a great increase of sickness and death. Chronic catarrh and consumption always begins by catching cold. Thousands have started on the road toward a lifetime of misery from chronic catarrh or a sure death from consumption. It is not too late yet to be saved and restored to a life of health and activity. Pe-ru-na will do it. It never fails to quickly cure chronic catarrh less than two years old. Of course Pe-ru-na cures thousands and thousands of cases of chronic catarrh that have run for many years, but in cases that are of more recent origin it cures, quickly, certainly and permanently. Every case of cold or cough that has resulted from the effects of our severe winter could now be cured in a short time by Pe-ru-na. Not a single one need fail.

All those taking Pe-ru-na who desire the advice of Dr. Hartman about their cases, should write, giving age, sex, disease and time of sickness, and he will answer free. A few weeks' treatment now will prevent years of suffering, and in many cases death. Address The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Company, Columbus, Ohio, for a free book on catarrh, colds, cough, la grippe and consumption.

For free book on cancer address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.

WHAT SOME NEWSPAPERS SAY ABOUT CONGRESS.

New York Sun (Dem).

What is the record of the 53d congress, with its unprecedented opportunities and glorious possibilities? Leaving out of consideration all minor scandals and sins of omission and commission, the record is this: A protectionist tariff, robbing many for the benefit of the few; a Populist income tax, robbing the few for the benefit of the many; an annual deficiency of national receipts, and a vast increase of the national debt. Exit the Congress of Dishonor!

New York World (Dem).

There has seldom been a more disappointing congress than the 53d, or one that misused and misused greater opportunities for public service and party prestige.

New York Recorder (Rep).

The congressional cuckoos will be pitched out at noon to-day from the legislative nests where they have been laying the addled eggs of Cleveland ism. What a scraggy, scrubby, bedraggled lot they are! * * * During the past two years we have been as much of a British colony as Canada is, so far as the administration could bring us to that condition of subserviency.

New York Times (Dem).

Extravagance, the sugar trust bribery scandal, the silver panic and its immense resultant losses, Populism triumphant in the income tax, the shameful precedent of a Senate, in which for two sessions less than a half dozen Democratic Senators were on decent terms with the Democratic President, and a perilous drunken lurch toward the appalling precipice of silver free coinage—these are the legacies of the 53d congress.

New York Press (Rep).

Despised even by itself, without an apologist anywhere in the country, the 53d congress will expire to-day. It was the first congress since the war in which the Democratic party has had a clear and constant majority in both houses. Concerning its record there are no two opinions. Everybody agrees. It makes no difference whether he is a Republican or a Democrat or a Mugwump or Populist, whether he is in congress or out of it—everybody, from the President of the United States to the last citizen on the promontories of Maine or the shoals of Key West, sums up the character of this congress and its work in the three words: Sectional ism, incompetency, destruction.

New York Tribune (Rep).

We have had two years of it, and not one Democrat in ten, it is safe to say, wants any more law-making by his own party. Neither Democrat nor Republicans would ever have believed, until the experiment had been tried, that the failure of that party could have been so complete and so humiliating. Men say it is the worst Congress ever known. At least there is a fair prospect that no other like it will be seen for many years to come. Even the free trade fanatics, with all their want of practical sense, will hardly vote for another such congress as the one which buries itself in dishonor to-day.

Profit $88 25 the First Three Days.

A few days ago I read in your paper how Mrs. Griffith made a great deal of money selling a new method of putting up fruit. Here is what I did with an Old Reliable Plater. The first three days that I had the Plater I plated 75 sets of knives, forks, spoons, etc., which, when delivered, brought me in about $92 00, cost of metal about $3 75, leaving a gross profit of $88 25 for my time and trouble, and everyone was well pleased with the work, and I came home with double the amount of goods to be plated. I average about $150 work per week. I have been a traveling salesman, but have given it up; the plating business suits me. Anyone can obtain an Old Reliable Plater by addressing W. P. Harrison & Co., Columbus, Ohio. Anyone out of work should take this opportunity to get employment and make money.

Carpets and Housefurnishings!

Is your home pretty? Is it as comfortable as you would like? Perhaps we can be of service to you.

To anticipate and assemble what housekeepers want is almost a science. For many seasons past our purchases and importations of Carpets and Upholsteries have been without an equal in variety, quality, excellence and elegance. The new goods for this Spring will easily discount the past. Values never better! Styles never so good!

We aim to get the best of everything in—

—Carpets
—Oilcloths
—Linoleums
—Mattings
—Curtains
—Draperies
—Pictures
—Rugs

and bits of Furniture. For instance we've sold over six thousand solid Oak Rocking Chairs at one dollar. The fact is the argument!

The leading interest just now is new Carpets. Over 3,000 rolls ready for the Spring trade, including many exclusive novelties. Is it any wonder we grow enthusiastic in the selling? More new Carpets here than in all the other Buffalo stores combined! And values are better than they were—thanks to the new Tariff.

A special importation of English Brussels, Weltons and Velvets just received. We shall be pleased to show them to you, in particular!

FARMERS READ THIS.

The Department of Agriculture has furnished us with the number and value of the sheep in the United States at the beginning of this year. We find there are 2,753,953 less sheep in the United States than there were on January 1, 1894, but their value has decreased by $22,500,343, which is at the rate of forty cents per head. Sheep that were worth $1 98 on January 1, 1894, were only worth $1 58 on January 1, 1895. This was the result of free trade in wool.

But to carry the comparison back a little further, so as to make it still more interesting, we give the number of sheep in the United States on January 1, 1892, with their total value and their average value per head as follows:

Number	44,693,265	42,291,661
Value	$110,121,750	$88,621,257
Value, each	$2 46	$1 58

This shows that the total loss in the value of the sheep flocks of American farmers was almost $50,000,000 within three years. Since the country was enjoying undisturbed protection at the beginning of 1892, when there was no talk of free-trade and no free-trade Congress had been elected, the effect of free-trade and its threats among our sheep has been a direct money loss of $49,435,503 divided among the sheep farmers. According to President Cleveland, they are all men with a small number of sheep, from twenty-five to fifty belonging to each farmer, who can ill afford the loss of exactly one dollar per head in the value of their sheep, which is just the difference between what they were worth under McKinley protection and what they are worth now under free-trade, and which has caused them a total loss of $50,000,000 within three years.—Economist.

The Worst Case the Doctors Ever Saw

Hood's Sarsaparilla Perfectly Cured

"G. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Dear Sirs:—I wish to testify to the great value of Hood's Sarsaparilla. For some time I had been troubled with scrofula, which early last winter assumed a very bad form.

Sores Appeared on My Face

and hands and gradually increased in number until they reached to my shoulder. The doctors said it was the worst case of scrofula they ever saw and also went so far as to say it was incurable. I tried ointments and other remedies but to no avail. A friend recommended Hood's

—D. W. Butterworth, the popular editor of the Potter Enterprise stands an excellent chance of being appointed postmaster of Coudersport. Democratic editors seem to be right in it in catching on to good fat jobs. Well, Will, here's to you.

—Miss Grace, daughter of Councilman Jewett, while driving in the woods a few days since, in attempting to turn around overturned the cutter. The horse ran away, utterly demolishing the cutter. Strange as it may seem no one was injured.

—As will be seen by the Court proceedings, F. E. Baldwin was yesterday appointed an auditor in the W. K. Jones bank case. A new account was filed and another payment to depositors will be made on Tuesday, March 26, at 10 o'clock a. m.—Enterprise.

—On December 10th, of last year, Rev. J. W. Sanborn sent a letter to Shanghai, China. It arrived there on the 17th of January, but the friend having left it was started back to the sender, arriving here on March 1st, the entire round trip being made in 80 days, looking as fresh as if it had only been mailed a few days.

—The borough of Smethport has in money at interest, bonds, mortgages, stock etc., $691,388, while the city of Bradford, with a population of about ten to one of Smethport, has only $280,775. It would seem that if some of this immense capital was invested in some industry, this section would be wonderfully benefited.

—Deputy Sheriff Davis started for the Western Penitentiary, at Allegheny, on Monday morning with the terror of Palmerville, J. R. Hill, who may think himself very lucky in escaping with such a light sentence. We are inclined to think that if certain matters had come to the knowledge of the court, his sentence would have been somewhat of a longer period.

—A newspaper man is blamed with a lot that he can't help, such as using partiality in mentioning visitors, giving news about some people and ignoring the the coming and going of others, etc. He simply prints the news he can find, or which is brought to our attention. Some people inform him about such things, while others do not. An editor should not be expected to know the names and residences of all your uncles and aunts.—Ex.

—The girl that gives way to a desire to gad about the streets, to cultivate the acquaintance of young men and act simperingly, is laying the foundation for a useless afterlife, and when married she will develop into a slatternly gossip. If no greater misfortune befalls her. It is the girl who loves home and helps her mother that wins the model man and becomes an ornament to womankind. The girl who does this and devotes some of her time to reading and strives for the graces of mental culture, commands the respect and esteem of everybody.—Warren Mail.

—Thomas Floyd, the 3-year-old son of Commissioner Thomas F. Hungiville, died at 10:30 on Tuesday night, of what was thought to be cerebro spinal meningitis. The bright little fellow was the idol of his parents and his death leaves them with but one little daughter to comfort them in their sad bereavement. The funeral was held on Thursday at 10 o'clock, at the Catholic church, Father Galligan officiating. The remains were placed in a beautiful white casket. The floral tributes were many and included a handsome offering from the friends in the court house. Tears flowed from many eyes as they witnessed the grief of the heart broken parents. The remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery on Rose Hill, the pall-bearers being Clarence Choate, Lawrence Morrison, Emmett Quinlisk and Joe McCabe. This was one of the largest funerals ever held in the Catholic church here, and shows the high esteem in which the mourning parents are held in this borough. The MINER tenders sincere sympathy to the bereaved parents in their sad hour of affliction.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make the statement: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at River Junction she was brought down with pneumonia succeeding la grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at F E Foster's and A B Armstrong & Co.'s Regular size 50c. and $1.

W. W. Tate, of Wellsboro, the Supreme Court clear man was in town on Tuesday afternoon, and did not forget the MINER office, but kindly dropped a year's subscription into our pockets. May a long and prosperous life be his portion.

A Pleasant Event.

One of the most enjoyable social events of the season was the party held at the Bayer House, at Clermont, on Tuesday evening last. A number of our citizens, accompanied by the band, drove to Clermont and arrived in time to partake of supper. After supper had been served to all, the band serenaded the citizens of the town until the arrival of the evening train, which brought another large delegation from Smethport and other stations along the line.

The whole party then repaired to the hotel, where the band rendered some fine selections. The large dining room was then cleared of chairs and tables, and dancing was indulged in until nearly midnight, when the guests were summoned to sit down to one of the finest banquets it had ever been their good fortune to enjoy. All the delicacies of the season and of all other seasons were served, and fully one hundred persons did ample justice to the elegant repast.

After all had feasted to their hearts' content, the dining room was again cleared and the dancing was resumed and kept up until an early hour. The band added to the entertainment by playing some of its sweetest music. Several gentlemen sang a few selections, which were well received.

The guests were all enthusiastic in praising Mr. Boyd and his gentlemanly partner, Mr. Smith, for their princely hospitality on this occasion. The band also were loud in their praise of the generosity of Mr. L. Bayer and other Clermont citizens.

Council Doings.

The old board of councils met at their office last Monday night and transacted the closing business of the year, passing upon several bills, etc., after which Mr. McGuire bade adieu to his associates and retired, Mr. Parris not being present.

Street Commissioner Black came in and there was a controversy over Mr. Black's account with the borough between him and President Kerns. Commissioner Black then left the room, and Burgess Hopkins came in and administered the oath of office to Henry Belver and Wm. McCammon, the new members. The Mayor then retired and in walked Mr. Black, and addressing the President, said, he had two witnesses out in the hall to prove that Mr. Kerns was a liar. "What's that?" Mr. Kerns asked, and Black said again, he had two witnesses to prove it was a lie about his building sidewalks for private parties and charging the boro for the same. Mr. Kerns ordered Black out of the room and more words followed, when Mr. Kerns became so wrought up that he could not contain himself any longer and started for Black, who attempted to draw his knife, and only for the interference of others there would have been serious trouble and something terrible might have happened, but fortunately cool heads stepped to the front and stopped the disgraceful scene. Mr. Black again retired, and peace being restored, business was resumed. Mr. Kerns was re-elected president for the ensuing year; Mr. A. T. Palmer retained as secretary; Mr. McKean as treasurer; Lewis Ramer was elected street commissioner and J. W. Boutou was retained as attorney for the boro.

A Fearful Crime at Crosby.

A man by the name of Yaple, who lives along the road between Crosby and Colegrove was arrested on Sunday night by Sheriff Walker and taken before Esquire Erhart on the charge of raping his 13 year old daughter, Mary. The complaint was made before the justice, but having no constable, the justice came to Smethport after the sheriff, who went up and arrested him and took him before the squire, who committed him to jail. The report is current that Yaple is irresponsible for the crime, owing to the fact that he is out of his head part of the time; but if he is sane, justice sure and swift should be meted out to the unnatural brute, who would so far forget himself as to commit such a heinous outrage upon his own offspring. He certainly belongs to the brute creation.

Smethport Honored.

Our town has again been highly honored by the G. A. R. of Pennsylvania in having two of her distinguished citizens chosen to fill responsible position in their societies. Mrs. Helen Morrison, last week at Williamsport, was chosen president of the Board of Directors of the Brookville Home for Soldiers' Orphans, and Judge Morrison was elected treasurer. It is also stated that Judge Morrison has been appointed judge advocate by the newly elected commander, Capt. H. H. Cummings.

Pennsylvania Railroad's Second Tour to "The Golden Gate."

The large number of people who have leisure, and the growing desire of Americans to see the wonders of their native land, are the principal agencies in advancing a healthy sentiment in favor of travel.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company's personally-conducted tours to California will be conducted in all respects as those of preceeding years, with some added advantages, which cannot fail to attract the attention and enlist the interest of the tourist.

In addition to the high-grade accommodations and entertainment in transit, the Pennsylvania tourists are treated with the same liberality wherever the journey is broken. The choicest rooms in the leading hotels are always reserved for their use, for which regular rates are paid, so that the guests, although members of a large party, enjoy all the privileges of individuals who may have made their own selections.

The second tour in the 1895 series to the Golden Gate will leave New York and Philadelphia March 26, 1895, arriving at San Francisco March 29, and at New York and Philadelphia May 16, 1895.

Detailed itineraries will be sent on application to Tourist Agent, 1196 Broadway, New York, or Room 411 Broad Street Station, Philadelphia.

POST ALLEGANY.

John and Frank Kilday, of Cripple Creek, Colorado, arrived home last Wednesday noon being called here by the serious illness of their mother. The coming of her loved sons was apparently the tonic most needed by the kind, old mother and her recovery has been rapid. On Friday evening the old schoolmates and friends of the boys to the number of sixty tendered them a reception at the Sartwell house and the European hotel of A. J. Connelley. The festivities continued until a late hour and when dispersing they gave three hearty cheers for the popular landlords and three rousers for the visitors whom they were so pleased to meet and entertain. John and Frank have prospered in their western home. They will return on Wednesday and many friends will wish them a pleasant, safe journey and a speedy return with their pockets well lined with filthy lucre.

The borough council met on Monday evening and lacking a quorum of the old members the chairman announced the meeting adjourned "Sine die." The councilmen elect, being qualified, were then organized the popular C. S. King chosen for chairman protempore. On motion Geo. Vanderhule was elected permanent chairman and the meeting adjourned to Monday evening March 11th 1895. The new council consists of the following well known gentlemen, who will without a doubt perform the duties of their office in a manner to reflect credit upon the borough and honor to themselves: Chairman, Geo. Vanderhule; councilmen J. V. Otto, C. S. King, A. D. Helmer, W. R. Ventres and Oscar Thuren.

The board of trade met in the council room on Saturday last and discussed ways and means for the permanent building up of our village. They adjourned to meet again this, Tuesday p. m. when it is expected that business of importance will be transacted. Our board of trade is comprised of the best and most prominent business men of the borough and they will leave no stone unturned which will tend to the interest of our town. We hope to be able to give you something definite in our next letter.

Miss Agnes Leighton is dangerously ill with typoid pneumonia at the residence of her sister, Mrs. A. J. Connelley, on Pearl street. Dr. J. V. Otto is the attending physician and all that medical skill can devise or kind hands do is being done for her recovery. Her mother, Mrs. S. J. Leighton, of Olean, is at her bedside, also her sisters, Miss Lucy Leighton and Mrs. Kate Tumser. Many friends are praying, and hoping that her convalescence may be rapid and her recovery permanent.

Perry Manning, a prominent farmer of Lillibridge Creek, who was taken to Buffalo some time ago where his leg was amputated, recovered nicely from the operation and was brought home on Friday last. On Saturday he was attacked with typhoid pneumonia and in his weakened condition he was unable to endure the ravages of the disease and sank rapidly to his death, which occured Monday morning at 7 o'clock. The last sad rites will be held to-morrow, Wednesday.

F. L. Blaisdell, of Red Bank, had business here last Friday and Saturday. We rise to ask, does this visit mean the establishment of a kindling factory in this village? By all means, let it come.

Bryce Kinney returned Monday from a two months' sojourn at Shingle House, where he was in attendance at the bedside of his grandfather, Capt. L. H. Kinney.

T. F. Boyle, of Buffalo, was circulating among our business men last Saturday. Mr. Boyle is one of the most popular commercial drummers who visit our town.

Luke Sheldon, of Olean, was in town a few days last week called here by the serious illness of his mother-in-law, Mrs. P. Kilday.

Messrs. F. E. Rowley and D. A. Wright were looking after business connected with the Wanamin mill at Eldred on Monday.

Theo. Hackett, one of Emporium's hustling lumbermen, had business in town on Monday.

H. D. Caskey, of the Austin "Autograph," was in town Monday en route for Coudersport.

Rev. A. B. Mechura, of Coudersport, was greeting his many friends in town on Monday.

M. A. Lillibridge is "drumming" trade in Olean and surrounding towns this week.

E. A. Barden, of Eldred, was here last Saturday on a business mission.

Supt Eckels, of Smethport, was a brief visitor in town last Saturday.

O. L. Snyder, of Buffalo, spent the Sabbath with friends in town.

RANEHOLM.

Mrs. C. S. Vantine returned here from Bradford on Wednesday, the 26 inst., where she had been attending the funeral of Mr. John P. Zane. Mr. Zane was well known here, having paid out considerable cash to farmers in this vicinity a few years ago for oil leases, many of which did not produce any oil.

Leroy Byham, the efficient police of Kane, is again on deck, and has the confidence of the council and the burgess, and of all law-abiding citizens of Kane and vicinity. It is only the toughs and would be toughs that get handled rough and put in the coop.

The South Penn. Oil Co. will drive 15 wells on their lease near here this summer. They now have a number of teams hauling lumber and pipe to the locations. J. W. Vantine has the contract for drilling the wells.

The P. & W. R. R. is now open for travel. They had a large force of men and two engines and snow plow to work last week, and opened up the snow drifts between Kane and Mt. Jewett.

Mr. H. U. Dolloff is home from Foster Brook, where he has been drilling all winter for John W. Vantine. He is now going to clean out some oil wells for the Test Oil Co. at this place.

Messrs. Davis & Smith had a hard time coming from Smethport on Friday last. They were 7 hours on the road, which was in such condition that they could not drive off a walk.

Hon. Geo. Griffiths was home on Saturday last shaking hands with his many friends. He returned on Monday to Harrisburg.

We have had rather bad roads for the last few days, but our supervisor is doing his best to make them passable.

Mrs. Elfrida Swanson moves to her farm in the spring. She is now living in Brockport, Jefferson Co., Pa.

Supt Eckels visited our school last week. Ex-Supt Campbell is the teacher.

Miss Libbie Nelson is home from Mt. Jewett.

OLEAN.

The Pittsburg and Western commenced opening their road last Wednesday and succeeded in getting a train to Ormsby Saturday afternoon. They had two engines and about thirty men, and a few warm days will put it in good shape. They are running regular this week and do not expect any more trouble.

The young people of Simpson gave an informal dance in the A. O. U. W. hall last week and as usual, it was a success. F. J. Cassidy and W. W. Seymour, of this place, attended.

McKean Bros.' mill has been shut down the past week on account of a broken engine but they are running as usual this week.

Ask the P. & W. trainmen if they have heard the new song "when summer comes again," and see what they will say.

Mrs. J. W. Seymour attended the band dance in Smethport last week as the guest of the Misses Welsh.

The Matson Oil Co. are building a large tool house in the rear of O'Connell & Ward's store.

Miss Alma Johnson and Amelia Anderson were in town last week.

W. B. Buchanan spent Tuesday in Kane.

"THE LAND OF FLOWERS."

Personally-Conducted Tours to Florida via Pennsylvania Railroad.

Undoubtedly one of the most original and highly satisfactory creations of the Pennsylvania Railroad is the inauguration of personally-conducted tours under the supervision and direction of a Tourist Agent and Chaperon, and the marked success and popularity of the tours to Florida are due to several causes; the complete appointment of the special trains, the liberality of the rate and the return limit of tickets, are among the features that have attracted the traveling public.

The next tour of this year's series to Jacksonville, allowing two weeks' stay in Florida, will leave New York and Philadelphia on March 12. The rate, including transportation, meals en route, and Pullman berth on special train in each direction, is $50.00 from New York and $48.00 from Philadelphia; proportionate rates from other points.

For further information apply to Ticket Agents, or address Tourist Agent, 1196 Broadway, New York, or Room 411, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia to whom application for space should also be made.

Right Arm Paralyzed!

Saved from St. Vitus Dance.

"Our daughter, Blanche, now fifteen years of age, had been terribly afflicted with nervousness, and had lost the entire use of her right arm. We feared St. Vitus dance, and tried the best physicians, with no benefit. She has taken three bottles of Dr. Miles' Nervine and has gained 31 pounds. Her nervousness and symptoms of St. Vitus dance are entirely gone, she attends school regularly, and has recovered complete use of her arm, her appetite is splendid."

Your Next

NEW DRESS.

WHAT WILL IT BE?
WHEN WILL YOU BUY IT?
WHERE WILL YOU GET IT?

Three pertinent questions just now with warm spring days just around the corner, and your winter wardrobe in its last stage of usefulness.

Perhaps you'll wonder what the busiest store in the busiest block, on Buffalo's busiest street, is showing just now in the textile line.

It took four full columns in each of the Buffalo papers last Sunday and Monday just to give 200,000 people a glimmering idea of our

New Spring Dress Goods,
New Spring Silks,
New Black Dress Goods,
New Black Silks,
New Spring Wash Goods,

And it takes four great plate glass show windows—the entire store front—to give the passers-by just a glimpse of the wealth of beautiful dress materials to be found on our counters.

This being the case, of course you will want to come to Buffalo to get your next new dress, and nothing will tempt you to purchase elsewhere until first of all you have seen the new things at our store.

No one ever objects to our prices.

THE FRENCH WILL REMAIN.

Recent Statistics Upset the Calculations of Germans and Englishmen.

It would be unfortunate for the world if the French people were to disappear from it. We have heard for a good while of the small birth rate in France, under which the births per year were less numerous than the deaths, and we have seen computations by statisticians that if this disproportion between the births and deaths were kept up for a certain period of years there would not be a Frenchman on the face of the earth at the end of that period. We would have been and over this prospect if we had believed it could ever be realized, for the world would be flatter than it is if the French were not in it. A crowd of Germans or Englishmen or even Irishmen could never make up for the lost French.

We are happy to be able to relieve any apprehension which may have been created by the statisticians. France herself, ever ready for any emergency, has come to the relief of the world. The French government has just issued the population returns of 1893 (we ought to have those of 1894 by this time), and they are joyful. There was an excess of births over deaths in the year 1893, not a heavy excess, but still encouraging. The number of French in France at the end of the year was greater by 7,146 than at the beginning. The record looks all the better when we compare it with that of the previous three years, during which the births fell 80,000 behind the deaths. It is a record which gives evidence that the tide has turned, and, if last year was as good a year as the previous one, the growth of population must be such as to knock out all the computations of the pessimistic statisticians, most of whom, by the way, are either Germans or Englishmen.

It is first rate news for France. The army must be kept up. It is good news for the world. We could not afford to lose the French. How dull old Europe would be without French politics and playwriters and presidents and artists and novelists and women, without French esprit or pensee or clan or fatigue or other things that belong almost exclusively to France!

France and the French are great. The Germans, English, Italians, West Africans and others had better not indulge in any hope of the disappearance of the French.—New York Sun.

AN ABSURD OLD LAW.

It Stood In the Way of the Recovery of the Body of One of the Elbe Victims.

Dickens, who so often studied with delighted interest the applications of English law to particular cases, would have found a subject worthy of his grimmest humor in the fact, cabled the other day from London, that when the master of a fishing smack, cruising near where the Elbe went down, saw floating in the water a dead body, which was doubtless that of a victim of the great disaster, he made no effort to rescue it from the waves and carry it ashore for identification and burial.

Instead he sailed past and away from the doleful bit of flotsam as quickly as circumstances would permit, not, as one might suppose, because he was a particularly hard hearted and cold blooded mariner, but because "recently, after landing a body, he had been forced to pay the funeral expenses." Curious as that experience had been and delightfully illustrative as it was of "crowner's quest" wisdom, the captain had no inclination to repeat it. One lesson had been enough to teach him the great principle that common sense cannot be allowed to interfere with consistency in the enforcement of a parliamentary act, and what in comparison with that is the continued agonized uncertainty of some German wife or mother?—New York Times.

A $10,000 Bachelor Dance.

Of course everybody is talking about the Hitchcock-Bulkley dance.

It is said to have cost those young bachelors about $10,000, and, as there were only about 200 people present, each person had to absorb about $50 worth of pleasure and refreshment.

It was announced that every one could order what he or she chose for supper. It was not surprising then to see terrapin and canvasback ducks washed down with rare old clarets and champagnes costing $5 a bottle.

Some of the dudes either deliberately or stupidly misunderstood the carte blanche idea of supper, and, when the waiters came to them for orders, asked for new dress suits or diamond scarf-pins.

I should think that one dance like this on such an elaborate scale would last society for a long time.

Like everything else remarkable, Aladdin's marvelous lamp gets tiresome when swung around too promiscuously.—Cholly Knickerbocker in New York Recorder.

Worked at Greeley's Elbow.

Uncle Joshua Barstow, undoubtedly the oldest active compositor in the country, celebrated his eighty-sixth birthday in Norwich, Conn., recently. His eye is undimmed by age, and he reads readily without glasses. Uncle Joshua was one of Horace Greeley's most intimate friends. He set type at Mr. Greeley's elbow all through the Harrison and Tyler campaign and recalls with pride the many times the two raced to the copy book for a particularly "fat" take. At the recent G. A. R. encampment Uncle Joshua was the second oldest veteran in line.—New York Herald.

Wine Cheaper Than Water.

A Greek journal states that so great is the quantity of wine now in stock on the island of Cyprus that last year's crop remains a glut on the market, and if we are to believe further accounts wine there has become cheaper than water. In the village of Tachakistra a merchant who was having a house built is said to have provided the masons with wine instead of water to mix with the mortar.—Public Opinion.

A Man Gets Tripped Up

Every now and then when he buys a watch. The outside wears off, and he finds the poorest kind of brass under the plating. Sometimes his watch gains an hour one day, loses twenty minutes the next and stops altogether the third day. But it's his own fault. Why didn't he buy of M. L. ARMSTRONG? Then if everything wasn't all right he could have brought it back and get the money he paid for it. Call and look my stock over.

THE PRESIDENT'S PROTECTORS.

The Armed Guard Which Keeps Watch Day and Night About the White House.

No president in the history of this country has been so careful in having himself guarded as Mr. Cleveland.

It started with the Coxey craze. Before the commonwealers began their march toward Washington but six policemen of the metropolitan force were detailed to do duty in the White House grounds. Besides these were the regular corps of White House watchmen and doorkeepers. But when the commonwealers came Marshal Wilson asked Major Moore, chief of the Washington police, to detail 12 more of his men for White House duty. Since that time the entire force of 18 policemen, besides the regular watchmen and secret service men, guard over the White House and its occupants.

Three sentry boxes, with lookout windows, have been erected in front and on either side of the building. In these armed guards do duty day and night, while others patrol the grounds. In the daytime ample guards are about the house and grounds watching for cranks or others who may enter with malicious designs.

Whether the president personally or his friends insist upon this personal guard is not known. Certain it is, however, that no information can be got from any of them. They so carefully expel the camera fiends from the grounds as they do a crank and have so far prevented a snap shot at even a sentry box.

When the president drives, he is followed by a well armed secret service man, who trails along a short distance behind the executive carriage in a buggy driven by a companion. Several times he went on horseback, but the buggy idea has been found to attract least attention and to be more preferable.—Atlanta Constitution.

HIS CREDENTIALS.

Richard Donovan Thought They Ought to Get Him a Place on the Force.

Richard Donovan arrived here on the Umbria on Monday from Black Rock, County Cork, Ireland, and was taken to Ellis Island. Later he was led before the board of inquiry, when it was discovered he had only 16 shillings as a starter for a fortune. He is an ingenuous, well built man, with a round, rosy face. During the examination the following dialogue took place:

Commissioner McSweeney—Donovan, what do you intend to do in America?

Donovan—Sharo, yer worreship, it's mostly phat's got a letter to the right honorable Mr. Richard Croker, lord chamberlain of North America.

Donovan produced the letter with a flourish. It was written by Miss Kate Connolly, also of Black Rock, who, it is said, is a distant relative of Mr. Croker, and in it appeared the name and address of "Alderman Kane of 287 East One Hundred and Forty-first street." After it was read Commissioner McSweeney continued:

"What are you going to do?"

"Shure, I intind to work."

"Have you been hired?"

"No, but I have d——d good letters, and afween the min as is mintioned in 'em don't you think I kin git on the perlice?"

And this opened the gates of Uncle Sam to Richard Donovan.—New York Recorder.

Aluminium Coating.

Now that the aluminium coating on the tower of the public buildings begins to make a showing some idea can be gained of what the great pile of ironwork will look like when entirely covered with this substance. It is evident that it will differ considerably in color from the beautiful white of the marble portion of the tower, and it is questionable whether it will harmonize pleasantly. When the tower was first planned, it was proposed to paint the ironwork white, so as to give the impression that the entire tower was of marble. This idea was abandoned, however, on account of the expense that would be forever entailed in painting the structure and the great risk that would attend the operation. The introduction of aluminium was hailed as a solution of the trouble, but it is yet doubtful whether it will really prove so. The coating of the ironwork with aluminium, which is all done at Tacony, is the biggest job in which that interesting metal has ever been put to commercial uses.—Philadelphia Record.

Culture of the Uninteresting.

They have been having great excitement in a usually extremely quiet suburban neighborhood, which may be in Roxbury or Dorchester, or might be in Allston or Malden—it doesn't particularly matter where it is. The ladies of the neighborhood, impelled by a holy Chautauqua inspired thirst for culture, have a "reading club," and of late the club has been piously engaged in wading through a history of Russia. Not that one suburban woman in the lot cares a straw about the history of Russia or will ever be benefited a jot by the reading of it, but something uninteresting must needs be read if one is to maintain one's position in suburban society and be thought intellectual, and the history of Russia, having a certain imposing air of uninterestedness, was chosen for this winter's reading of the club.—Boston Transcript.

Onion Socials.

Onion socials are becoming popular in some parts of the country. Six young ladies stand in a row, one of them bites a piece out of an onion, and the gentlemen pay 10 cents apiece to guess who bit it. The correct guessers kiss the other five girls, while the unsuccessful kiss the one that bit the onion. There are no blanks in this lottery.—Syracuse Post.

A New Trilby.
